

Skywatch at Sheringham Cemetery

15th April 2018 10:00 - 12:30

Join us to look for raptors and other soaring birds in the sky above this spectacular grassland site; with a vast panoramic view of the Cromer to Holt Ridge to the south and west, and the coast to the north. Free parking. Enter the cemetery site from the main coast road (A149), continue through the double entrance gates and turn immediately right. Drive slowly through to the field at the end, where you can park. Bring binoculars (some spares will be available to borrow) and telescopes if you have them and a chair to sit on. There are no facilities on site, the nearest are in Sheringham. Meet the leaders on site: Moss Taylor and Lin Pateman

Felbrigg Park Mid-Week Walk

18th April 2018 09:00 - 11:00

This walk caters for all levels of ability. We will take a leisurely walk around the Park & Lake, route dependent on the local bird and other wildlife likely to be present on the day. Please wear clothing appropriate to the weather - footpaths in Felbrigg can be muddy at any time of the year. Meet at Sexton's Lodge car park, off Lion's Mouth, NR11 8PS at the western end of the estate. To keep the club's carbon footprint small, please consider car sharing. As usual, children are welcome if accompanied by well-behaved adults, but we regret no dogs.

Kelling Heath Walk

22nd April 2018 09:00 - 13:00

We will meet at the Kelling Heath car park off Holgate Hill, Holt NR25 7ER, Grid Reference OS ODL TG 100419, between the Kelling Estate garden centre (ex-EMCY) and Weybourne. The slightly obscured turn into the car park is on the western side of the road in a dip near the summit. Today's walk will take us across the heath where we will look for the heath's special birds such as Woodlark, Dartford Warbler and Turtle Dove. We should also find Stonechat, Tree Pipit, tit flocks and may be Crossbills; raptors overhead are likely too. After some time on the heath we will walk northwards through the deciduous woodlands to cross the Coast Road to Muckleburgh Hill and Fox Hill looking for spring migrants such as Wheatears. We will return to Kelling Heath and the cars by another woodland path. Walking boots with ankle support and grippy soles are advised as there will be short sections of hills to ascend and descend. A scope will be useful but not essential. The walk is aimed at birders of all abilities. Children are welcome if accompanied by well-behaved adults, but we regret no dogs. To keep the club's carbon footprint small, please consider car sharing. Leader Janice Darch

'India for all the Family' talk with Julian Bhalerao

26th April 2018 19:30 - 21:30

Julian's interest in India goes back a long way and in this talk he aims to demystify the complexity of this fabulous country and share the many delights it has to offer. The talk is based on an extended family trip that he made a few years ago, catering for a variety of interests and an age range of 5 to 80. It will encompass wildlife, history, culture, sightseeing, and even visiting relatives. Julian Bhalerao is of English/Indian origin, and is well known to many club members. He has been interested in wildlife, particularly birds, all his life, and has travelled extensively in pursuit of his hobby. He is also a keen amateur photographer, and has recently been co-opted onto the NENBC committee as photographic editor. Venue - Aylmerton Village Hall, NR11 8PX. Please park along Church Road or in the overflow car park at the church. Please ensure that local residents can still access their driveways and there is sufficient clearance for agricultural vehicles to use the road. A torch might also be helpful, as the village has no street lighting. To keep the club's carbon footprint small, please consider car sharing.
